PERISCOPE AS A NON-BUDGET PROMOTION OF BRANDS

Key words: non-budget promotion, personal brand, audience, social media, Periscope, Ryan Bell.

It has long been known that the classical methods of promotion are not effective as they used to be. Today, new media with a wider audience is a new opportunity to promote your company or brand. The audience in the new social network actively responds to the message that the company is trying to convey. The main reason is that the social network had not oversaturated business activities and advertising yet. One of these new social networks is a Periscope, which just gaining momentum among the other social media.

First of all, Periscope program is communication, the expansion of contacts and acquaintances, sales geography. This application makes it possible to widely popularize the personal brand. In this platform successful businessmen promote their company or yourself, you can draw on their experience and skills. Periscope allows you to watch live video lectures of experienced salespeople and coaches, from which you can also draw useful information. You can observe the actions and activities in conjunction with the periscope commonplace activities: on the road, or in the evening, while lying on your sofa, combining leisure with education.

The most important is the Periscope own broadcast. You can very advantageous to provide the public his personal brand. Consideration should be given a presentation to the smallest detail and run it in real time. It does not require any cost, unlike a commercial on TV, and your audience will immediately respond to you. To understand the reaction of the audience and its representation of you, you should answer the questions of potential customers in the broadcast, and to study their comments. It is also necessary to make the "hearts", they affect your rating. The more of them you will put, the higher your popularity, therefore, more and more people learn about the brand.

These big brands like Red Bull, Spotify, Applebee’s, SanDisk, Doritos, Southwest Air, Adidas, Nike, Hootsuite, UFC and Elle Magazine, is already testing the app Periscope. In the near future it is expected more and more well-known players on this platform.

This trend proves that brands have a chance to have time to take this niche before it is filled to 100%. Plus, many brands already have an account on this site, but still do not enjoy it, have taken a wait. Now is a good time to start advertising on the Periscope and conquer their audience.

The undoubted advantage of social Periscope platform is that it gives the opportunity to create the user a sense of security and the reality of the brand. The founder of the social network Periscope Ryan Bell is certainly confident in significant marketing potential of its own product.
